Cleaning and maintenance:

The FAWN tabletop and legs are both made from oak, and all the parts are manufactured in Denmark.

The table is oil-treated with natural food-grade oil, with no harmful elements. The table is durable and will take on daily use for many years to come.

To keep the beautiful look of FAWN for many years, it is an excellent idea to refresh the oil treatment every so often when you feel it needs it. This refresh is only for oak table tops.

Treat the FAWN tabletop and legs with wood or teak oils. These oils are usually available in paint and hardware stores. Please follow the individual instructions on each product.

Oak tabletop, oil-treated

Use a moist, microfiber cloth to wipe down the surface. Take care of not using any cleaning solvents or chemicals.

After cleaning the tabletop, wipe down with a dry microfiber cloth, careful to remove all moisture, and take care of not leaving any water or moisture in any cracks. Leaving water or moisture after cleaning can cause the tabletop to warp.

Tabletop - black, stained

The black FAWN is stained with natural and environmentally safe lacquer to get a hard and durable surface. Clean with a moist, microfiber cloth to wipe down the surface. For a deep clean, use a little cleaning detergent.
